COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY

School of
Dental and Oral Surgery

Dedication

We all entered dental school with curiosity and trepidation, but mostly with uncontained eagerness to finally complete the foundation of our futures — our careers.

From our pre-clinical courses to the seventh floor clinic sessions, we strived to have our brains communicate with our hands; to meet our requirements, and to eventually graduate and enter the world of dental professionals.

Throughout these four years you all played a pivotal part in helping us to achieve what we thought were almost impossible goals.

You were each unique in your personalities, philosophies, and techniques, but in one concerted effort you helped us all to accept some of the disappointments, thrive in all of the achievements and ultimately to shape our lives. To some of us you weren't only "the instructor", but instead, became a friend. You were always available for help when we needed it, eager to instruct us, and pushed us to develop our talents. In short, you were all a beacon of light at the end of a sometimes long and dark road.

This year, the Class of '91 dedicates the yearbook to all of our instructors, both clinical and pre-clinical, with heartfelt gratitude for all of your patience, guidance, and dedication.

SCHOOL OF DENTAL AND ORAL SURGERY
Office of the Dean

630 West 168th Street

Dear Class of 1991,

Your class has the distinction to be the first Columbia University, School of Dental and Oral Surgery class to graduate from the reformulated curriculum. You possess all of the fine qualities of previous generations of SDOS graduates, but you have acquired some important new attributes.

First, your basic science education was brought together in pathophysiology and physical diagnosis, thereby permitting you to provide a more thorough physical assessment for your patients than previous graduates. As you begin the practice of dentistry you will find that this education permits you to be a stronger partner with your physician colleagues in managing the care for the growing numbers of those in society living longer lives who require special medical attention. This education is not easily obtained outside the walls of Columbia, and we hope you will use it wisely.

Second, you are the first graduates to follow an area of personal interest during the 3rd and 4th years of your education here. Coupled with working more closely with faculty during your introduction to patient care through the Faculty-Fellow Group Practice Program, we hope you have gained a broader perspective on the practice of dentistry.

On the one hand, you have suffered the rough roads of being the pioneer students for new curriculum emphasis but you have benefited, on the other hand, by enriching your educational experience through closer interaction with faculty.

I am proud of you. Your nature and selfless attitude have not only broaden your horizons, but you have set the pace for future generations of SDOS graduates.

I believe we will look back in a decade and generally recognize the Class of 1991 as a landmark class! I know that you will use your education well and, above all, practice in a caring and scientific manner.

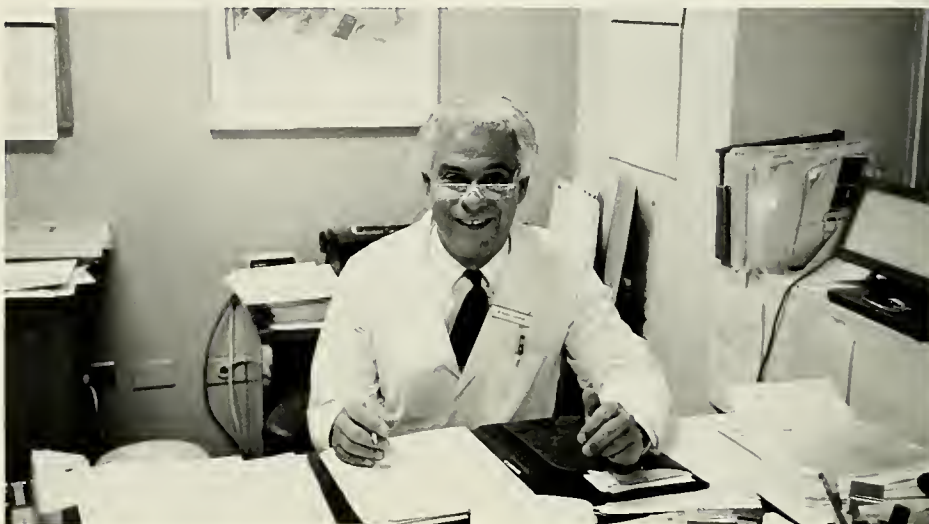

You join the alumni family of the school with my congratulations and best wishes!

Sincerely yours,

Allan J. Formicola, D.D.S.

As a young dental student, Michael (such an angelic name) gained recognition not only for academic brilliance; but also, because he was able to maintain a Type II periodontal condition in spite of the efforts of many graduating seniors who tried to take this honor from him. Michael will always be remembered for his search for truth, justice, and a large regular coffee. After 4 years at C.U.S.D.O.S. This young caucasian male presents to this clinic with a painful, ulcerative lesion on his left commissure. Past medical history revealed that the patient recently underwent extensive dental treatment at one of the leading dental schools in this nation. Which of the following is or are the cause of this lesion?

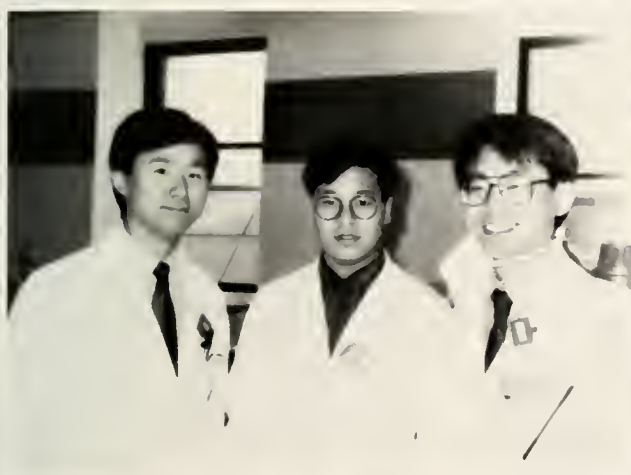

- a. improper use of hemodent
- b. rinsing with eugenol
- c. iatrogenic dentistry
- d. Lenny
- e. ALL OF THE ABOVE!

Feel better . . . My patient cancelled again . . . I'm up in ENDO
. . . I'm doing a PERIO assist . . . Ahhhh, done with FIXED . . .
You'll never believe what happened . . .

The last 4 years have seen many tumultuous changes occur in the world - all while we have been suffering through dental school on W. 168th Street.

In 1987, the stock market collapsed by falling over 500 points in one grim October day, far surpassing "Black Tuesday" as the worst day on Wall Street.

In 1988, Reagan was out and Bush was in.

In 1989, we saw the seeds of the Communists' overthrow in Eastern Europe take root. Before the year was over the Berlin Wall literally came tumbling down, initiating the end of Soviet occupation. Soon, Romania, Bulgaria, Hungary, and others would follow suit. It was probably the most long awaited and far reaching event of worldwide significance that occurred during our dental training.

China's dictators were not as easily persuaded as Soviet dictators and crushed a student led rebellion with brute force in Tiananmen Square in the summer of '89, executing hundreds who only want what we take for granted - Freedom!

We also saw one of the most unforgettable World Series'. On October 17th we all watched in amazement as San Francisco's Candlestick Park was rocked live on T.V. by a powerful earthquake measuring over 7.0 on the Richter Scale.

In 1990, we saw NYC elect its first African-American mayor and saw Virginia become the first state ever to elect an African-American as a Governor. Unfortunately, we also witnessed the rise of racism in NY with the Bensonhurst Incident, the Central Park Jogger, The Korean Grocery Store Incident, and the Riots in Tompkins Square Park. And no one can forget the horror of seeing Los Angeles policemen savagely beating an African-American to death.

Exxon's mishap was an environmental disaster not soon forgotten. The oil spill off the coast of Alaska causing the death of marine life in the region and billions of dollars expense will be with us for many years.

AIDS was on the mind of most dentists after discovering that most experts agreed that a Florida dentist did in fact infect three patients with HIV due to lack of proper infection control.

Yellow ribbons became commonplace, since our senior year was overshadowed by a "Desert Shield" followed by a "Storm" in the Mideast. Thankfully, an oil-rich Kuwait was liberated, putting an end(?) to a tyrant named Hussein.

On the lighter side we all fell in love with 4 Ninja turtles; a robust comedienne who can make us laugh, but sure can't sing the national anthem; and we continue our obsession with a sexy, sultry, blonde bombshell who doesn't seem to do anything "like a virgin", but my is she in "vogue". The airwaves were dominated with Rap music from Public Enemy to Vanilla Ice. Broadway gave us a "Phantom", a "Butterfly" and a revival of the "Fiddler".

When all is said and done, our four years of dental school paled in significance to what happened around the world (as much as we would like to believe otherwise!).

-Leonard C. Barozzini

We were assigned with the responsibility of producing a yearbook for the Class of 1991. Our enthusiasm for this project was dampered slightly when we were faced with a limited budget as compared to last year's funds. Our only solace was that we did not have to face the task alone. Dr. Bacharach and Dr. Torrese provided us with hope that this achievable. Douglas S.R.D.F. Holden, Rodney Bordallo, and Lenny Barozzini lent us their invaluable lay-out skills, comic relief, and special relaxation therapy. Anna D'Emilio's creative writing skills made it possible for the Class of 1991 to clearly express its gratitude for the faculty's dedication. The computer wizardry of Robert Hwang gave the ads their slick appearances. Grace J. Zaidman's innovative financial strategies supplemented our meager budget and allowed us to pay our bills. A special thanks goes to a group of individuals who took it upon themselves to ensure that the yearbook of 1991 would be possible despite the stiff financial restraints—Dr. Davis, Dr. Pritz, Sharon Foley, and Renée. We would like to take this opportunity to wish all the best to our classmates and friends in their future endeavors. If we had the chance to do it all over...we wouldn't...just kidding.
